EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

WHY MORAL AND SPIRITUAL GROWTH MATTER: Today, there is a general feeling that the youth in the present social set-up are deprived of the opportunities for growth and development and also participation in the affairs of the family, the State and the society. And therefore, it is thought that the youth are disappointed, disillusioned and restless, and that is one of the reasons why they indulge in violent and destructive activities.

It is usually noticed that in the present-day set-up, the main emphasis is on the economic, social, political and even the physical aspects of three 'key words' — growth, development and participation — whereas the moral and the spiritual aspects are generally neglected. It is hardly realised by our policy-makers that a person can neither be in a happy frame of mind nor in a healthy state of body if his/her moral growth and spiritual development are neglected.

Hence, a man may grow physically to be a giant and may monetarily be a billionaire, but he may spiritually be underdeveloped and morally a wreck. The net result of this would be that he would have to lead his life on the crutches of intoxicating and addictive drugs or any other harmful means of relief from stress and would have wasteful, antisocial, criminal or suicidal tendencies. It is, therefore, of utmost importance that moral and spiritual growth form the base of all other kinds of growth and development.

The youth, it must be known, are like a double-edged sword; they can be used to destroy an enemy in its hideouts or, alternatively, they can also spread terror in their own territory by sabre-rattling. Hence, if they are instigated to sit in strike and to go wild so as to wreck the national property and to point daggers at those whom their nation has appointed as their teachers and to indulge in acts of arson and rampage at the slightest provocation, then they would become an army who will pull down the structure of their own nation without any remorse.

Let us, therefore, be wiser to consider our youths to be our present working strength and our prospective nation-builders, for "the youth are not only the leaders of tomorrow but also the partners of today."

Goats survive over 200 years on isolated island

Rio: Scientists are trying to understand how a herd of goats not only survived but thrived on an isolated island in northeastern Brazil for over two centuries without any known fresh water source.

It's not clear how the goats wound up on Santa Bárbara, one of the five volcanic islands that make up the Abrolhos archipelago, about 70 kilometres off the coast of Bahia, but scientists believe they were brought and left there by colonizers. Livestock like goats, pigs, and poultry made for a reliable food source, but they were usually left behind when colonisation failed. Their presence on Santa Bárbara Island has been documented for more than 250 years, according to historical records, which is remarkable if we take into account that the small island has no known fresh water sources. Despite this "inconvenience," the goats thrived on the dry, windy island to the point where they had to be relocated in order to protect endemic plants and animals.

Tree thrives when struck by lightning

New York: Scientists have discovered a tree species that not only survives lightning strikes but thrives as a direct result of them.

Today, scientists know of at least one tree species that not only shrugs off lightnings but attracts them and uses its destructive power to kill surrounding trees and hog all the surrounding nutrients for itself.

Forest Ecologist Gora and his team came across other Dipteryx oleifera trees that thrived after getting struck by lightning. Using a special lightning location system, the team tracked 93 trees that had been struck by lightning, measuring parameters like survival rate, physical condition, parasitic activity and the death rate of surrounding plant life for a period of two to six years. Their findings were remarkable!

REALLY...?

- Jackals are a type of canine, related to dogs, coyotes, foxes and wolves. They look like a cross between a German shepherd and a fox.
- They live alone, in pairs, or in packs and feed on whatever small animals, plant material, or carrion is available.
- They follow lions and other large cats in order to finish a carcass when the larger animal has eaten its fill. When hunting in packs, they are able to bring down prey as large as an antelope or sheep.
- Like other members of the genus, jackals sing at evening; their cry is considered more dismaying to human ears than that of the hyena.

Tree felling needs positive political will and public consultation

Sir,

The news item published in Star of Mysore dated Apr. 13 about the merciless mowing down of more than three dozen fully grown avenue trees by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) for widening Hyder Ali Road between Nexus Mall and the SP Office — in connivance with the Forest Department — is nothing short of mayhem committed against nature.

Does this mean that, to accommodate the ever-increasing vehicle population, roads will continue to be widened at the cost of nature? While it is acknowledged that there are no easy solutions, the question remains: Did the MCC explore alternative approaches?

If they truly apply their minds, more sustainable solutions can be found. What's needed is a combination of positive, nature-friendly, political will and advanced urban planning. Strategies such as promoting public transportation, offering incentives for shared mobility and restricting excessive vehicle use could go a long way.

There must be a willingness to continually analyse evolving traffic patterns and develop newer, practical strategies, rather than resorting to seemingly easier solutions without considering their long-term consequences. Traffic is not linear — even small interventions can significantly improve flow and reduce pressure on urban infrastructure.

In a similar case related to the Lalitha Mahal Palace Road, which was in danger of losing hundreds of trees for the same reason as this, for widening the road, it was the dogged, persistent protest and counselling by the environmental activists led by Maj. Gen. (retd.) S.G. Vombatkere, the trees were saved and the roads too were widened in an alternative way as H.R. Bapu Satyanarayana mentions in his letter.

Yesterday, I recalled the Lalitha Mahal Palace Road case and reminded Gen. Vombatkere about it in a WhatsApp message which was as follows:

Gen: I happily remember but for you Lalitha Mahal Palace Road trees in hundreds might have disappeared, so also the park with trees near the Police Bhavan too would have disappeared and worse the Police Bhavan itself would have stood right by the side of the road.

Kempaiah IPS understood your point and shifted it inside. I am guilty of being sceptic about your objection to road widening here but finally a way out was found and today we are happy. Trees are saved. I salute you for your Seva as I use this road many times daily.

Felling of 40 trees on Hyder Ali Road

Online petition to save Mysuru's trees

Silent candlelight protest near SP Office tomorrow at 6.30 pm

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (GA&BCT)- After the resounding success of the 2021 online campaign that halted the felling of hundreds of trees for a proposed Heli Tourism project at the foot of Chamundi Hill — garnering over 80,000 signatures and forcing the State Government to rescind — Mysureans have once again turned to public action. This time, to oppose the indiscriminate axing of trees for road-widening projects.

A new petition titled 'Demand restitution for the massacre of over 40, 50-year-old trees in the heart of Mysuru' has been launched on Change.org by Sanjay Dattatri, a member of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP).

The petition, which went live yesterday, has already crossed 7,423 signatures and is rapidly gaining traction. [Link to petition: https://www.change.org/p/demand-restitution-for-the-massacre-of-45-50-years-old-trees-in-the-heart-of-mysuru]

The petition criticises the so-called development that has come at the cost of Mysuru's green heritage and calls for an immediate halt to the unnecessary expansion of Hyder Ali Road, which it terms a "crime against nature" that has taken place.

It further proposes that at least 50 new trees be planted, protected and nurtured along the same stretch by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and the Forest Department. "Such a tree planting initiative is not only a gesture of restitution but a public declaration of our collective will to preserve the city's tree-lined character," the petition notes.

In a bold move, the petition also calls for an inquiry led by the Chairman of the National Green Tribunal (NGT) to investigate the circumstances surrounding the tree-felling operation and identify the individuals or authorities responsible.

CBI probe into MUDA 50:50 sites scam

High Court issues notice to CM Siddaramaiah, wife

Next hearing on Apr. 28

Bengaluru, Apr. 17 (Agencies)- The Karnataka High Court yesterday issued notices to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his wife B.M. Parvathi, and several others in connection with an appeal seeking a Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) probe into the alleged Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site scam.

Siddaramaiah

The appeal, filed by petitioner Snehamayi Krishna, challenges a previous order that had rejected his request to transfer the investigation from the Karnataka Lokayukta Police to the CBI.

A Division Bench comprising Chief Justice N.V. Anjaria and Justice K.V. Aravind directed that the notices be made returnable on Apr. 28. The Bench stated, "Notice to respondents returnable on Apr. 28, since it was stated that appeals connected to the subject matter controversy are slated to be listed on that day."

The original petition was dismissed earlier this year, with a Single Judge ruling that the Lokayukta investigation showed no signs of bias or inadequacy.

In addition to the Chief Minister and his wife, the Division Bench also issued notices to the CBI, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs and the Karnataka Lokayukta Police. Others named include Siddaramaiah's brother-in-law B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy and land owner J. Devaraju.

In his appeal, Krishna argued that the Lokayukta Police operate under the administrative control of the State Government and therefore cannot carry out an impartial investigation. He reiterated the need for a CBI inquiry, citing the agency's independence from State control.

The Single Judge had previously observed, "The office of the Lokayukta does not suffer from questionable independence," and maintained that the institution's autonomy is protected, as affirmed by both the Supreme Court and a Division Bench of the High Court.

During yesterday's hearing, the Division Bench raised a procedural query regarding the maintainability of the appeal under Article 226 of the Constitution. "What are the yardsticks to judge whether the appeal is maintainable?" the Bench asked.

Senior Advocate K.G. Raghavan, representing the appellant, clarified that the appeal did not contest a judicial order but sought a writ of mandamus. "I am asking for a mandamus, not challenging an order of a Court," he submitted.

The Court noted that it would first examine the issue of maintainability before proceeding to hear the case on its merits. Raghavan also informed the Bench that a related appeal — challenging the Single Judge's order upholding the Governor's sanction to prosecute the respondents — is listed for hearing on Apr. 28.

"If this Court allows the appeal challenging the Governor's sanction, the question of referring the matter to the CBI would not arise," he submitted. The matter will next be heard on Apr. 28, along with other appeals linked to the MUDA case.

The Lokayukta Police have filed a closure 'B' report, stating that there is no material evidence to substantiate the allegations against the Chief Minister, his wife, Mallikarjunaswamy and Devaraju.

Unidentified man dies in hospital

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (KS)- An unidentified man, who was being treated as an inpatient at Kantharaj Ward in K.R. Hospital, had breathed his last at the Hospital on Apr. 15.

The deceased is aged about 40 years, 5.6 ft. tall, normal built, dark complexioned, oval faced and sports beard and moustache.

The kith and kin of the deceased, if any, may contact the SP Office on 0821-2520040 or call the District Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2444800, according to a press release.

MUDA cancels CA site allotted to Devanga Udyogasthara Balaga

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (RK&VNS) - The Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) has cancelled the Civic Amenities (CA) site allotted to Devanga Udyogasthara Balaga for violating the norms and rules stipulated by the Authority.

An order issued by MUDA Commissioner A.S. Raghunandan, dated Mar. 14, 2025, stated that the Balaga had violated the rules stipulated under Sec. 10 (10) of The Karnataka Urban Development Authorities (Allotment of Civic Amenity Sites) Rules, 1991 and thereby the CA site (No.1) allotted to Devanga Udyogasthara Balaga has been cancelled. Further, the order also mentioned that lease amount paid till date had also been forfeited.

Case Details

The MUDA had allotted CA site No. 1 measuring 25 mts x 54 mts (1,350 sq mts) located at Vijayanagar 2nd stage on a 30-year lease in the name of the President of Devanga Udyogasthara Balaga on Mar. 23, 1998 for the purpose of constructing school and a play ground.

At the time of allotting the site, MUDA had stipulated certain conditions which prohibited the beneficiary from selling, sub-leasing the allotted site and entering contract with other parties among others. It was also mentioned that the Balaga must complete construction of the proposed building as per the approved blueprint within two years from the date of allotment.

However, one S.R. Nanjappa in his complaint to MUDA alleged that the Devanga Udyogasthara Balaga on Mar. 13, 2019, had signed a mortgage deal with one Trinity Institute for a period of 15 years collecting a yearly lease amount of Rs. 3-4 lakh.

Acting on the complaint, MUDA officials during their investigation found that the Balaga had violated norms and issued a show cause notice dated Jan.6, 2025. On receiving the notice, Balaga submitted a DD for Rs. 11,848 towards the 'Annual Lease Amount' along with its answer to the notice.

However, with Balaga violating the rules and norms stipulated under Sec. 10 (10) of The Karnataka Urban Development Authorities (Allotment of Civic Amenity Sites) Rules, 1991, the allotted CA site was cancelled.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, MUDA Commissioner A.N. Raghunandan, said that the CA site allotted to Devanga Udyogasthara Balaga had been cancelled and the lease amount was also forfeited as it was found that the Balaga has violated the norms and rules mentioned during the allocation of the site.

"MUDA will also conduct an audit of 505 CA sites already allotted to various institutions and action will be taken against those found violating the rules and norms," he said.

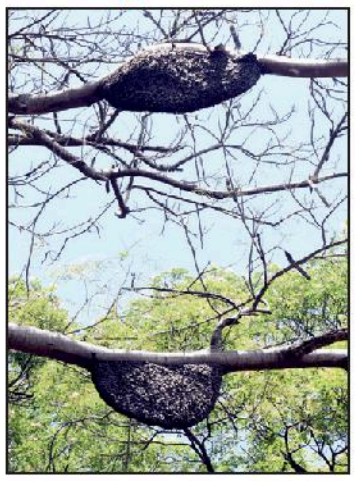
VOICE OF THE READER

A thought-provoking article on honey bees

Sir,

I found the article on bees in Star of Mysore dated Apr. 12, fascinating and thought-provoking. It is in our own best interest to protect honey bees, as they are responsible for pollinating more than 30 percent of the food crops we rely on — including fruits, vegetables and nuts.



As Albert Einstein famously remarked, "If the bee disappears from the Earth, man would have no more than four years left to live."

Honey bees are believed to have originated in Asia around seven million years ago, eventually spreading across Europe and Africa. Remarkably, they can locate their hives from up to three miles away, using a combination of scent, sunlight and landmarks.

However, their survival is under threat. Climate change disrupts the timing of flower blooms, affecting their food supply. Pathogens, pesticides and the widespread practice of monoculture farming further endanger their populations. Isn't it fascinating that these tiny, diligent creatures can recognise human faces and even distinguish between individuals? Let us live — and let them live.

Admission to Class 1: Age limit relaxed to 5.5 years for kids

Bengaluru, Apr. 17- Buckling under the pressure of parents to relax the age norm for admission of children to Class 1, the State Government has relaxed the age restrictions to 5. 5 years (5 years and 5 months), applicable only for the present academic year.

This was announced by the School Education and Literacy Minister Madhu Bangarappa here yesterday.

The Government had earlier capped the age limit for admission of children to Class 1 to 6 years, which has been now revised to 5.5 years. The age limit is applicable for the students seeking admission to Class 1 after studying LKG and UKG. But the parents were in a state of confusion following the increase in the age limit.

Minister Madhu Bangarappa said, there is a uniform age limit of 6 years, with a relaxation up to two months, for the children seeking admission to Class 1 in the country. As decided by the State Government, the new age limit will come into effect from the next academic year.

Yuva Nidhi Scheme: Calling youths

Mysuru, Apr. 17- Yuva Nidhi is one of the flagship programmes implemented by the Congress government in the State which offers a ray of hope for unemployed educated youths.

Under this scheme, students of degree and diploma who successfully completed their courses in the year 2023, are being given Rs. 3,000 and Rs. 2,000 respectively.

The beneficiaries are required to submit a self-declaration about their status of employment every three months through Sindhu portal of the State Government.

Eligible candidates should have compulsorily linked their Aadhaar Card to their Bank Account, says a press release from the Assistant Director of District Employment Exchange D.M. Rani.

Admission to Military Boys Hostel

Mysuru, Apr. 17- The Department of Sainik Welfare and Resettlement has invited applications from children (boys) of Ex-Servicemen and their dependants domiciled in Karnataka, for admission to Military Boys Hostel in the city. The students must be studying in classes sixth to twelfth standard or Diploma in any school or college of the city.

Applications can be had from the Department Office near old DC Office. Admission to the hostel will be given only after candidates are admitted to any educational institution. Last date for applying is May 31. For details contact Ph: 0821-2425240.

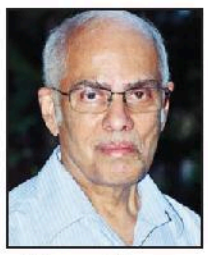
April 13: A dark day for Mysuru's green heritage

By Bhamy V. Shenoy

April 13 is likely to be remembered as a black day in Mysuru's environmental history. In the early hours of that morning, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), in an act shrouded in secrecy, carried out a green massacre by axing more than 40 fully grown, decades-old heritage trees lining Hyder Ali Road.



Bhamy Shenoy

The operation was deliberately executed in the dead of night to avoid public backlash and prevent intervention by environmentalists.

Outraged by what they describe as a heinous crime against nature and humanity, given that the environmental impact of tree-felling resonates far beyond local boundaries — activists and NGOs have launched a full-fledged movement. This time, they say, it will not be a symbolic protest or a photo-op. Public patience has run out.

A petition initiated by the Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP), demanding a public inquiry and an immediate halt to the road-widening project, has already garnered more than 7,000 signatures. Organisers are hopeful that the campaign will exceed one lakh signatures, given the gravity of the ecological destruction.

In an act of defiance and renewal, saplings have already been planted along the very stretch where the trees were felled. A major event — the candlelight march — is scheduled for April 18 at 6.30 pm near the SP's office to pay homage to the 40 trees.

Organisers call it a shraddhanjali, a solemn tribute to the trees that silently sustained the city's ecosystem without ever asking for anything in return.

The Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF), who sanctioned the tree-felling, claimed he was "convinced" of the need to widen the road based on the Mysuru City Master Plan.

However, critics argue that no cost-benefit analysis was conducted, nor was public consultation held. While MCC reportedly pledged funds to plant 400 compensatory trees (10 for every tree felled), activists argue that no number of saplings can replace the ecological value of mature trees, each worth approximately Rs. 6 crore, as estimated by Dr. Kodira A. Kushalappa, a former Forest Officer.

The DCF's failure to assess whether Hyder Ali Road genuinely experiences heavy traffic, or to demand data justifying the project, has raised serious questions. Environmentalists are asking whether the justification was merely the availability of funds, reportedly sanctioned from MLA Tanveer Sait's local area development grant.

If true, activists hope the MLA himself, a known public servant, would be dismayed to learn of the damage his allocation may have unintentionally enabled.

With mounting public support and a growing call for transparency, NGOs have vowed to block the road-widening project at any cost. They point to the successful cancellation of the proposed widening of Lalitha Mahal Road, which was withdrawn after public hearings and silent protests.

Sadly, no such democratic process was followed this time. The felling was done in secrecy — without public knowledge, consultation or consent.

Now, citizens hope the MCC will drop the project peacefully and take steps to restore the green cover by planting and nurturing trees in the same location, even though it will take years to regain what has been lost.

The upcoming candlelight march is being seen as a watershed moment — possibly Mysuru's own Chipko Movement. Organisers draw inspiration from the iconic 1973 protest led by Sunderlal Bahuguna and the 1730 sacrifice of 362 Bishnoi villagers who died protecting trees.

They believe Apr. 18 could mark a new era of environmental consciousness in Mysuru, where not a single tree will fall without a proper public hearing.

Silent candlelight protest to save trees

Meanwhile, in retaliation for the sudden and unauthorised felling of trees on Hyder Ali Road early Sunday morning (Apr. 13), the 'Parisara Ulivigagi Kriya Samithi' (Save Environment Action Committee) has announced a silent candlelight protest. The trees were cut down for a road-widening project near the SP Office on Hyder Ali Road.

The protest will be held on Apr. 18 at 6.30 pm at the site where the trees were felled. As a mark of mourning and dissent, participants will wear black badges and light candles in a symbolic tribute to the trees that once stood tall.

Addressing a press conference at Pathrakarthara Bhavan yesterday, Parashuramegowda, a Founding-Member of the Committee, strongly condemned the Forest Department's decision to allow the axing of nearly 40 fully grown trees. "At a time when Mysuru is reeling under soaring temperatures of over 40 degrees Celsius, instead of planting and nurturing trees, the authorities have permitted their destruction," he said, terming the move deeply irresponsible.

He questioned the very basis of road-widening project, noting that traffic congestion in the area does not warrant such drastic action. He also criticised lack of transparency, pointing out that there was no public notice, no environmental assessment and no exploration of alternatives such as transplantation.

"If expansion was truly needed, the method adopted near the Administrative Training Institute (ATI) on Lalitha Mahal Road — which preserved green cover — could have been replicated," he suggested.

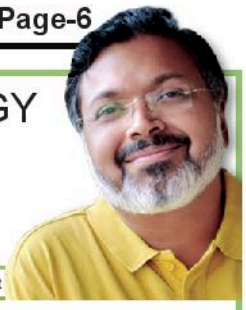
"The tree felling was done in secrecy, under the cover of darkness, without involving the public. This act of environmental destruction comes at a time when the world is battling the climate crisis. It is both senseless and shocking," he added.

The protest, described as a shraddhanjali, is open to citizens, students and environmental enthusiasts. On Apr. 24, a memorial service will be held at the same spot, after which an appeal will be submitted to the Chief Minister and the Deputy Commissioner.

The Committee has also urged the Mysuru City Corporation to focus on widening genuinely narrow and congested roads, instead of targeting avenues that have thrived for decades.

Veteran journalist and PUCL activist Kamal Gopinath, along with environmental advocates Gantaiah, Gokul and Kusuma Ayarahalli, were also present at the press conference and extended their full support to the movement.

DECODING MYTHOLOGY



Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Mythology of the Fish

Across India, the fish is a sacred symbol — all kinds of fish. The salt-water fish (Surmai), fresh-water fish (Goonch), fish of ponds (Rohu) and rivers (Mahseer, dolphins), fish of deltas that travel upstream to spawn (Palla, Hilsa). Fish is linked with autonomy as it cannot be tamed, and with fertility and prosperity. Brahmins who ate fish referred to it as "water-plants" (jala-taru).

In Buddhist Jataka, Buddha once turned himself into a red fish and offered his flesh to people to save them from starvation and cure them of a skin disease. In another story, Buddha felt sorry for a male-fish caught in a net. Instead of worrying about its own death, the male-fish was worried for his wife who may be thinking that he eloped with another fish. Only the Buddha knew the truth: that the female-fish who had escaped the net had deliberately not warned her mate about the trap. She wanted to be free of him. The male fish was trapped internally by his passions and externally by the net.

The Mahseer fish is likely the inspiration behind the story of Vishnu's Matsya Avatar. In Hindu mythology, a small fish asks Manu to save him from a larger fish, and later, when the fish grows into a giant fish, he saves Manu from a great flood. Vishnu wears fish-shaped earrings, a symbol of eternal movement, hence life. A fish overheard Shiva explaining the secret of Tantra to Shakti. That fish transformed into Matsyendranath, the eldest of the Nath-Jogis.

A pair of fish (Pisces) is a well-known fertility symbol, found in Chinese culture, Buddhism and Jainism. It indicates fortune. So, it is part of wedding ceremonies in Bengal. It is said that a pair of Rohu fish once leapt onto the boat of a Nawab who was fighting for control over Lucknow. As a result, even today, the emblem of Lucknow features two leaping fish as heraldic symbols.

The freshwater dolphin (Makara), considered sacred, is the national fish of India and is believed to be the mount of the River Ganga. Pehad Baba, of Jammu and Punjab, is a folk deity worshipped as a snake and also associated with Mahseer fish. He brought the rivers full of fish to the regions where he is worshipped.

In Mahabharata, Satyavati, the grandmother of Kauravas and Pandavas is a fisherwoman. She was found in the belly of a fish. In Bhagavata, Krishna's son Pradyumna is thrown into the sea and later found in the belly of a fish.

In the Mughal court, the order of the fish was considered the highest honour, adopted from Persia, and was probably inspired by a river catfish (goonch). With its moustache-like barbels, it became a symbol of autonomy and power, as fish cannot be controlled or domesticated.

In the Sindh region, the Indus River is associated with Jhulelal, the Palla fish-riding saint venerated by the Sindhis.

In Christianity, Christ is called the fisher of men. His early followers were all fisherfolk. In Greek mythology, the god of the sea Poseidon rides a dolphin. Poseidon's son Triton was the first merman often shown in art blowing a conch-shell. In Irish mythology, the hero catches and eats the salmon of knowledge and becomes wise.

Case of 'dead' wife found alive

Mysuru SP submits probe report to Court; judgement on Apr. 23

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (BLU&VNS)- In the case of 'dead' wife found alive, Superintendent of Police (SP) N. Vishnuvardhana submitted an enquiry report on Police lapses in investigation, in a sealed envelope to the Court, here this morning.

The Fifth Additional District and Sessions Court Judge Gururaj Somakkalavar, who read the 26-page report, expressed his disappointment stating that, the Police had only justified the charge sheet filed in the case earlier and there was substantially nothing new in the report.

Further, the Judge pointing at the Police officers, highlighted that as per the charge sheet, the decomposed body of the victim (Suresh's wife Mallige) was found 20 days after she went missing, albeit with her dress intact.

The Judge questioned- How can a body get decomposed in just 20 days, with her dress intact, despite wild animals and dogs devouring the dead body?

The then investigating officer (IO) in the case, Circle Police Inspector (CPI) of Periyapatna Police station B.G. Prakash and Sub-Inspectors Mahesh Kumar and Prakash Yettimane, had no answers.

In his submission, accused Suresh's advocate Pandu Pujari requested the Court to file a suo motu case under IPC Section 211 for falsely implicating his client in the case and damaging his image in the society.

The Court, having heard advocate Pujari's submissions, said it would consider the request while pronouncing its judgement on Apr. 23.

Additionally, the Public Prosecutor Yogesh, also submitted to the Court that in the case the accused (Suresh) was the real victim and he may be acquitted honourably. He also requested the Court to refer the matter to District Legal Services Authority (DLSA) to decide on the compensation to be awarded to Suresh.

It may be recalled that, one Suresh, a tribal hailing from Basavanahalli in Kushalnagar, was arrested by the Bettadapura Police in Periyapatna taluk of Mysuru district on the charges of murdering his wife Mallige, in June 2021.

Suresh, who had to spend two years in jail, was released on a bail granted by the High Court. Shockingly, his 'dead' wife Mallige was found alive, having snacks with her paramour Ganesh at a hotel in Madikeri on Apr. 3, 2025, that opened a pandora's box.

Justice B.R. Gavai set to be next CJI

New Delhi, Apr. 17 (UNI)- Chief Justice of India (CJI) Sanjiv Khanna has officially recommended Justice Bhushan Ramkrishna Gavai as his successor, nominating him for appointment as the 52nd Chief Justice of India.

The recommendation was made by CJI Khanna to the Central Government on April 16, 2025.

Justice Gavai currently holds the position of the senior-most Judge in the Supreme Court after CJI Khanna. With Justice Khanna set to demit office on May 13, 2025, following a brief tenure of approximately seven months, having taken oath as the 51st CJI on Nov.11, 2024, Justice Gavai is expected to assume the top post shortly thereafter.

Significantly, Justice Gavai will become only the second Chief Justice of India from the Scheduled Caste community, following the footsteps of Justice K.G. Balakrishnan, who retired in 2010. Justice Gavai's tenure will also be a short one, as he is due to retire on November 23, 2025.

Chain snatcher arrested: 2 gold chains worth Rs. 2.40 lakh recovered

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (KS)- City Crime Branch (CCB) Police on Apr. 7 arrested a person near People's Park on charges of committing chain snatching in Nazarbad Police limits on Mar. 30.

During interrogation, the accused is said to have snatched two gold chains in Nazarbad Police limits and based on the information provided by the accused, the Police have recovered two gold chains weighing 28 grams and worth Rs. 2.40 lakh from him.

Following the arrest, the Police have solved two chain snatching cases in Nazarbad Police limits.

CCB Inspector M. Mohan Kumar, Sub-Inspectors Mallavva Bhandi and Maruthi Antharagatti, ASIs M.R. Ganesh and Ramegowda and staff Ramaswamy, Prakash, Jayaram, Suresh, Mahesh, Uma Mahesh, Narasimharaju, Mahesh, Shivanna, Ravi, Govinda, Mamata and Ramya took part in the nabbing and recovery operation.

Day 3: Lorry strike hits supply of farm products

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (RK&BS)- Lorry strike entered its third day today, with lorry operators refusing to give in to the assurances of the State Government to address their demands at the earliest. On the other hand, Transport Minister R. Ramalinga Reddy has convened a meeting of lorry operators in Bengaluru later in the day.

With lorry operators on indefinite strike since Apr. 14 midnight, the people, especially farmers are feeling the heat, with disruption in supply of fertilisers, manures, food grains and also motor pumpsets. The vendors and dealers who have placed orders, are waiting for the lorry strike to end to resume the supplies, seeking time from the customers to cater to their demand.

An irrigation motor pumpset dealer on Ramavilas Road said, they are finding it difficult to supply the orders, owing to the strike. It may take another two-weeks to receive the consignment, with no option left other than waiting for the lorry strike to be called off.

Another dealer said, this is the season when motor pumps are more in demand, following the increase in drilling borewells for farming purposes. With influx of Kerala farmers, who take agricultural fields on lease to grow ginger, the demand for motor pumps will be naturally high especially this season. However, due to the ongoing lorry strike, there has been a slump in business.

Following the strike, the lorries continue to be parked on the roadside and several other yards near Metagalli, Bannimantap, H.D. Kote Road, Srirampura and at D. Devaraja Urs Truck Terminal near Bandipalya APMC Yard Junction on Mysuru-Nanjangud Road.

Woman goes missing

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (KS)- A 34-year-old woman has gone missing since Apr. 11 from Mysuru South Police limits in city.

The missing woman is Nagaveni, daughter of Girimallaiah. She is 5 ft. tall, normal built, light brown complexioned, has the name 'Vishali' tattooed on her left hand, cannot speak and was wearing a yellow and white mixed colour top, brown pant and veil at the time of going missing.

Those having any information about the missing person may contact Mysuru South Police Station on Ph: 0821-2444955 or the District Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2444800, according to a press release.

MP Yaduveer to inaugurate 'Nirmala Nenapu' tomorrow

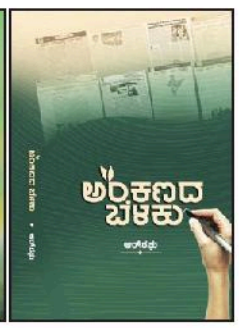
Yaduveer Wadiyar

Raghu Kautilya



Mysuru, Apr. 17- Nypunya School of Excellence, Mysuru, has organised a programme titled 'Nirmala Nenapu' in memory of the School's Founder-Trustee Nirmala R. Raghu at Kalamandira in city tomorrow (Apr. 18) at 3.30 pm.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Wadiyar will inaugurate the event. Two books, 'Bhoomi Putri' and 'Ankanada Belaku,' authored by School Chairman R. Raghu Kautilya, will be released on the occasion.

Theatre artiste and former Rajya Sabha MP Dr. B. Jayashree will release 'Bhoomi Putri,' a collection of small verses (ಹನಿಗವನ) written in memory of his wife late Nirmala while educationist Dr. Gururaja Karjagi will release 'Ankanada Belaku,' a collection of Raghu's articles published in newspapers.

Author and MLC A.H. Vishwanath will be the chief guest. Former MLA late Harshakumar Gowda's wife Komala will be the guest of honour.

As part of the memorial event, students will stage 'Punyakoti' dance-drama (directed by Vidushi Dr. Shambhavi Swamy). Noted singer Sangeetha Katti will present a musical evening.

Kaveri Dance and Music Festival by Orissa Association Mysore

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (VNS)- The Kaveri Dance and Music Festival, organised by Orissa Association Mysore (OAM) as part of its annual celebrations (Varshikotsava) will be held at the premises of ancient Sri Venkateshwara and Bhoga Narasimha Temple at Srinivasa Kshetra, located on the banks of River Cauvery in Belagola, Srirangapatna taluk, on Apr. 19 from 11 am.

Dr. M.S. Krishnamurthy, Professor Emeritus (retd.), Department of Ancient History and Archaeology, University of Mysore; Dharmadhikari CA H. Ramachandra, Chartered Accountant, Hariharan and Co, Mysuru; Dr. Ramasastry Ambarish, Chairman and Dean, MYRA School of Business, Mysuru and Er. Narasimhaiah, Retd. Engineer, Department of Archaeology, Government of Karnataka, will be the chief guests.

The event begins with alankara and puja to Sri Venkateshwara and Bhoga Narasimha from 9 am to 12 noon followed by mahamangalarati between 12 noon and 12.30 pm. Following the mahamangalarati, distribution of prasadam will take place from 12.30 pm to 1 pm.

Dr. M.S. Krishnamurthy will also deliver a short talk on the ancient temple between 1 pm and 1.30 pm. Later, the devotees and members present will have the opportunity to enjoy classical music concert by renowned artistes. The annual event will also feature Odissi, Bharatanatyam, Kuchipudi and Kathak performances by artistes at the Rangamantapa located at the temple premises.

It may be noted that the 11th century temple situated on the banks of Cauvery in Srinivasa Kshetra, Belagola, Mandya district, was discovered by the members of Orissa Association Mysore in September 2003 in a dilapidated condition and was restored and renovated to its past glory after the works on gopuram of Bhoga Narasimha Temple was completed during November, 2022.

Vokkaliga leaders slam caste census; plan stir

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (PM&BCT)- The Vokkaliga community has voiced strong opposition to the implementation of the Socio-Economic and Educational Survey, commonly referred to as the caste census, calling it unscientific and unjust.

Community leaders have resolved to launch widespread protests, alleging that the report under-represents their population and threatens their educational, social and political standing.

At a high-level meeting held on Wednesday at the BGS Hostel premises in Paduvarahalli (Vinayakanagar), prominent leaders of the Vokkaliga community expressed anger and frustration, accusing the Congress Government of sidelining their interests.

Former MLA L. Nagendra said, "The Vokkaliga community has never been unjust to any other group. But if injustice is inflicted on us through this flawed census, we will not remain silent."

Data collection questioned

Echoing this sentiment, former Mayors Modamani and R. Lingappa denounced the report, claiming that census officials had failed to visit most of the households and questioning the authenticity of the data.

Lingappa warned that the report seemed to be deliberately targeting both the Vokkaliga and Lingayat communities and urged leaders of both groups to engage the Government before launching coordinated protests.

Beedanahalli Satish Gowda alleged that the report aimed to distort official records and called for a scientifically conducted re-census. "If this census is implemented, it will spell political disaster for our community," he warned.

Unscientific and dangerous

Kannada activist Shivashankar pointed out that the Vokkaliga population had reportedly halved since 1981, calling the data "unscientific and dangerous." He called for unity across political affiliations to safeguard the community's future.

Mohan Kumar Gowda, another Kannada activist, advocated for the community to independently commission a population survey and submit accurate data to the Government.

Former Corporator Prashanth Gowda slammed the State Government for hastily attempting to implement the caste census report and noted that even Legislators from the Vokkaliga community, including those in the ruling party, had raised objections. He also highlighted bipartisan criticism from JD(S) and BJP Legislators.

Adding weight to the Opposition, Adichunchanagiri Mutt's Dr. Sri Nirmalanandanatha Swamiji publicly opposed the survey, citing its lack of scientific rigour. Community members also criticised the premature leak of the report, which they said exposed administrative failures.

More than 200 members of the Vokkaliga community participated in the meeting. Under the guidance of Sri Someshwaranatha Swamiji of Adichunchanagiri Mysuru branch Math, taluk- and constituency-level committees will be formed to devise the protest strategy.

Among the key attendees were former Mayor Sandesh Swamy, State Vokkaliga Association Director K.V. Sridhar, Manjegowda, JD(S) leader Ravichandregowda, BJP's Hemanth Kumar Gowda, former MUDA Chairman Yashaswi Somasekhar, Vontikoppal Gururaju, District Vokkaliga Association Secretary Chetan, K.B. Lingaraju, Pema Shankaregowda, and Satish Jawaregowda.

'Link census to Aadhaar for accuracy'

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (PM&BCT)- Director of the State Vokkaliga Association K.V. Sridhar has called for a fresh, scientific approach to population surveys by linking caste census data with Aadhaar cards and geo-tags.

Speaking at a high-level meeting of Vokkaliga leaders yesterday, he denounced the caste census as deeply flawed and lacking credibility.

"This report shows the State's total population as only 5 crore, while official estimates place it at 7.7 crore. How can such a massive gap be explained?" he asked. "There are no records or evidence to show that officials even visited many households. The methodology is unscientific."

He stressed that using Aadhaar-linked geo-tagged surveys would deliver accurate data acceptable to all castes and added that the Vokkaliga Association had earlier proposed this method to the Chief Minister.

"The adverse effects of this report must be clearly explained to every individual in our community so we are prepared for protests," he said.

Joining the chorus of Opposition, former Mayor Sandesh Swamy questioned the intent behind the survey. "According to legal experts, no State Government has the authority to conduct a caste census— only the Centre does. This report is not just unconstitutional, it is an attempt to sideline our community," he said.

He further pointed out that Karnataka has 56 Lingayat, 46 Vokkaliga and 10 Brahmin Legislators. "This raises serious concerns about whether there is a deliberate strategy to reduce the influence of Vokkaligas, Lingayats, and Brahmins. We must not allow political affiliations to divide us. The time has come to unite and resist this injustice."

Caste census confusion: Special Cabinet Meet this evening to chart next move

Bengaluru, Apr. 17 (KMS& BCT)- In a bid to resolve the growing confusion surrounding the caste census data, the Karnataka Government is set to hold a Special Cabinet Meeting this evening.

The meeting, convened by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, will deliberate on the social, educational and economic survey reports submitted by the Kantharaj Committee and the Karnataka State Commission for Backward Classes, chaired by Jayaprakash Hegde.

Sources indicate that the Government may decide to form either a Sub-Committee of Ministers or an expert panel led by the Chief Secretary to further examine the reports and chart the way forward.

Since the findings of the caste census were made public, opposition to the report has intensified. Influential communities, including the Vokkaligas, Lingayats, Brahmins and other castes, have outrightly rejected the report, warning the Government of electoral consequences and threatening mass protests if the findings are implemented.

Amid this backlash, Ministers and Legislators from the Veerashaiva/ Lingayat community within the ruling administration have decided to hold separate meetings to formulate a unified stance before presenting it in the Cabinet.

Despite internal dissent, political observers believe that the Chief Minister's word will ultimately prevail in the Cabinet. While Ministers opposing the report may voice their concerns, they are unlikely to influence the Chief Minister's final decision.

Backed by the Party High Command, Siddaramaiah has already taken the controversial step of making the report public — a report that had remained in limbo for nearly a decade.

So far, all developments have unfolded in line with Siddaramaiah's strategy. At today's meeting, he is expected to assert his authority, leveraging the support of the party leadership to neutralise resistance and ensure his preferred course of action is adopted.

Ministers from the dominant communities, wary of risking their political future, are reportedly reluctant to challenge either the party leadership or the Chief Minister directly. Despite mounting pressure from their respective communities, none have publicly commented on the issue.

All eyes are now on the outcome of today's Cabinet meeting. While the Chief Minister may entertain suggestions from his colleagues, speculation is rife that the Government could announce the formation of a new Committee to review and possibly revise the current report.

135th Ramotsava of Ramabhyudaya Sabha: Day-9

Impressing with his imagination in singing

On Day-9 of the Ramotsava music series by Ramabhyudaya Sabha at Alammana Choultry in Srirampet on Apr. 14, Vid. Sunil Gargyan gave a vocal concert with Vid. H.N. Bhaskar on violin, Vid. K.V. Prasad on mridanga and Vid. Ranganath Chakravarthy on ghata.

Vid. Sunil Gargyan presenting a vocal concert at Alammana Choultry in Srirampet on Apr. 14. He is accompanied by Vid. H.N. Bhaskar on violin, Vid. K.V. Prasad on mridanga and Vid. Ranganath Chakravarthy on ghata.

Sunil's singing is marked for its deep-rooted classicism, thanks to PSN, the visionary, who created so many of such unique talents. Sunil opened the concert with the two-speed 'Vanajakshi' varnam by Nagapattinam Veerasamy Pillai set to Adi tala. He followed it by 'PraNamAmyaham Sri Gowrisutam' in Gowla by Mysore Vasudevacharya, rendering which he displayed his taste for the expression of Sanskrit literature.

Sri Tyagaraja's 'Nada sudharasamu' in Arabhi, prefixed by an appealing alapana and the swarakalpana to the pallavi section displayed his approach for building tempo. Arunachala Kavi's 'HanumAne sAmikinta' in Malayamaruta came as a surprise as this composition is never heard these days in concerts.

Rasikapriya, the last parent scale in the 72 raga system in Karnatak music, also called Rasamanjari in Dikshitar school, is not often heard.

The delineation of this raga was methodical keeping on beautiful moves in framing the melody. H.N. Bhaskar enhanced it with his violin. The Kannada rendition 'Hindilla Swami Mundilla,' by Purandara Dasaru marked for good sangatis, also showed Sunil's keen interest in sahitya expression in an unknown language. 'Shree Matrubhootam' by Dikshitar in Kannada with kalpana swaras to the madhyamakala sahitya 'SuvAsita nava jayanthi pushpa vikasita' weaving interesting patterns, was a good choice.

Kharaharapriya was the submain suite. The alapana was appealing at every stage but the vocalist did not venture the top notes in this or anywhere in the concert. In the popular composition of Sri Tyagaraja 'Chakkani RAjamArgamu', the artiste took care to pronounce each word of the sahitya clearly, splitting it at proper, suitable places. The line 'KanTiki sundara' was chosen for melodic improvisation as expected, followed by a long swara essay, concentrating on 'd', climaxing into a grand muktaya and it was time for Taniyavartanam. The taniyavartanam by K.V. Prasad and Ranganath Chakravarthy was pleasingly elaborate.

Sunil chose to present a Raga Tana Pallavi in Revati. The raga, very short, was again sung in only the mandra and Madhya sthayi, where Sunil's voice sounds heavenly but the Tara sthayi was not even touched, which was a bit disappointing. But the tana, which was rendered extremely well, made up for it. The pallavi 'Sri RAma TvAm mama bhaktirEva | Teevra bhaktim dEhi' set to Trishra Atta tala, was in no ways less engaging, though with no ragamalika swaras.

Tamil composition 'mAruti varuvAn mangaLam taruvAn' in Shuddha sarang by D. Krishnaswamy Iyengar, 'GOpAlaka pAhi mAm anisham' in Boopala by Swati Tirunal and devaranama sadA enne hrudayadalli' in Behag by Vijaya Dasaru formed the dessert part of the concert.

TiE Mysuru to host 'Powerful Storytelling: Key to Audience Engagement' workshop

Sachin Bhandary

Mysuru, Apr. 17- TiE Mysuru has organised a dynamic workshop titled 'Powerful Storytelling: Key to Audience Engagement,' focused on helping entrepreneurs and business professionals master the art of storytelling to drive impact, inspire action and build lasting connections.

This engaging and interactive session will be held on Apr. 19 from 4.30 pm to 6.30 pm at Darbar Hall, Hotel Southern Star, in city.

In today's world of data overload and digital distractions, storytelling is no longer a soft skill — it's a superpower. Whether you're pitching to investors, launching a marketing campaign, engaging with customers or leading your team, compelling stories can build trust, loyalty and brand recall.

This session will help participants craft and deliver powerful narratives that build trust, loyalty and strong brand recall.

This exclusive workshop will be facilitated by Sachin Bhandary, Founder of The Story Co. & Story Club, a renowned business storytelling coach and trainer. With years of experience guiding start-ups, corporates and change-makers, Bhandary will unlock practical techniques that help entrepreneurs craft stories that resonate, influence and convert.
